

The queen's mystery :)

A girl named fiora used to live in venezuela she was not an ordinary girl she was the princess of the venezuela she was 2 when her mother died by an accident that no one mentions about her death as she grew up she felt lonely she had a sister and a dad but they were busy in the royal stuff . fiora was clumsy and pretty girl she used to play with a royal caretaker and the caretaker's grandson was her childhood friend as she grew up she got a lot more clumsy she broke 15 swords and her dad's favorite golf club, she remember that day her dad scolded her and she was in her room the whole day one day as she was cleaning her room she found a picture of her mom and her under her bed as she remember her mom she started to tear up from memories of her mother and her how they were happily living and her dad used to play with her and they used to watch sunsets together as she got out of her thought she continued cleaning her room she had a weird feeling because she never knew how her mother died so she decided to search more about her mother she always wondered that there was a room that her dad told her to stay away from.

Fiora was scared but she tried to sneak into the room but there were guards everywhere so she asked his friend Richard for help. First he didn't believe her but fiora somehow convinced him to help her. They began to head towards that room then they sneaked in from the window which was open as they entered the room . they saw there was her mother's stuff everywhere and as they were finding some stuff so that they could know more about her mom . they felt that someone was watching them so they thought it was the guards and they ran from there.

The next day she went to the palace's library for some books she used to love reading books she was trying to get a book from the top shelf but she lose her balance and fell down after 3 minutes she heard a loud thump it was the self that fell down this time .the lady that takes care of the library said it's the 7 time you did that . fiora was embarrassed, she awkwardly said sorry and she said 'please don't tell dad the library lady said i will not but don't do it again.

Fiora ran from there as fast as she could . she was running and suddenly bumped into someone she was a lot embarrassed to even look up who it was. she kept her head low and said i'm sorry and ran again but the person she bumped in was a bit suspicious because the person said nothing so she looked back and' it was a lady' she thought it was some new maid

she noticed that she had seen the same tattoo that was on that ladies neck so fiora decided to follow that lady she went out following that lady and the lady stopped at the palaces basement but the lady went in from a door which had a lock as the lady unlocked the door fiora jumped on her to she her face when she saw her face she was shocked

It was her dead mother who was standing in front of her struggling to get her hands off her but suddenly they hear a whistle which means that the guards were coming so her mom dragged her into that locked room in the basement. her mom said to her "don't tell anyone that i am here "

Fiora was in shock she got out of her thoughts when her tears fell on her cheek she asked all of the questions at one time her mom said her “i can't tell all of the questions at once ask a bit slowly”then her mother told her that she went out for a walk one evening and then someone tried to kidnap her but she ran from there and when she came back she was announced dead and she lived in this basement ever since then fiora asked her “ do you know who kidnaped you” her mother said that it was the brother of the king who was jealous from the king .

Fiora asked then why did you not come back her mother sadly said that your dad liked some other women and he was happy with her so how can i come back and then fiora told her the story of how her stepmother treated her and then they decided to run away from there in the end fiora and her mother lived happily together far away from venezuela and fiora got married to richard and they had a baby girl after one year .

The end :)

Written by : angel kaur (the sad girl)